I really enjoyed reading the article. It does credit to an exceptional person in so many respects who I greatly admire. He deserves all the recognition and accolades that society offers, not only from the allergy/respiratory/immunology community.

Nice paper, Anna!
What a legend! What a record! What a phenomenon!
Fortunately enough, I know you Jean, so I can be affirmative: the legend is not a “legend”, but really exists, as we’d say...

A wonderfully written story of a very exceptional man! Every word is true and makes justice to Jean, but still gives only a glimpse of his countless activities. His creativity, logic, speed and capability of networking with others explain his enormous impact in science and evidence-based action plans. This is true, not only in allergy and immunology, but medicine and biosciences in general. Both theories and best practices for a better world!
Congratulations to Jean but also to you, Anna!

We are very proud of you!

This is truly true!

You are a legend of allergology / immunology.

You have inexhaustible creative energy!

Congratulations on your tremendous work and efforts to maintain ARIA, MACVIA and MASK over the years, as well as the publications that resulted from this.

This is a recognition of your high professionalism in the development of allergology at the world level.

Thank you for everything that you do, and I wish you many more events, meetings and such publications about you in the future.

I would like to wish you creative success and the most wonderful moments in your life.

Thank you very much for letting us know about your excellent article.

If you agree, I will disseminate it through my channels on social networks and through the Latin American allergy network translated into Spanish.

Congratulations on the writing and especially to Jean for his impressive scientific career.

Some of these data I knew through my great friend Carlos Baena-Cagnani, who should have been given a similar tribute at the Latin American level, but unfortunately left us suddenly and prematurely.

It is a great honor to be able to work and interact with you.

Congratulations!!!

I truly believe you give meaning to the word "legend". The Allergy field owes you so much. Often a person gives more weight to a title than the other way around.

I think Anna is fortunate for witnessing closely your work and, with her truly charming and professional character, has helped the scientific community to know you better.

God bless you both
